Greetings Girl Scouts, Families and Friends!

The national, state, and local election process will be top of the news until Election Day in November. The Girl Scout role in any election is to provide an accurate, age appropriate, non-partisan interpretation of the election process.

The purpose of this program is to engage and empower Girl Scouts to understand the voting process in a patriotic—not political—manner, eagerly anticipate their right to vote, and encourage and enable women to exercise their right to vote. While working on this program or for any potentially political purpose, be aware that GSUSA’s policy concerning political activity is referred to in Safety Activity Checkpoints.

This program contains activities for Girl Scouts in all age levels. Each level must complete a specific number of activities, as noted in the “General Requirements” section.

Discussions of different political parties and views are an important part of this program and should be encouraged. Activities should concentrate on general education about the election and research all sides of an issue so girls can make informed, independent decisions.

In addition to the patch program, check out your Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting and the related Citizen Badge.

- Daisy: Rosie Petal, Make the World a Better Place
- Brownie: Celebrating Community
- Junior: Inside Government
- Cadette: Finding Common Ground
- Senior: Behind the Ballot
- Ambassador: Public Policy

Thanks for educating girls about the importance of participating in our democratic process, and have fun with the program!
Promise to Vote Service Project

Why Vote?

Despite the many hard-won battles for increased voting rights, including recent government efforts to make voter registration easier and more accessible, many eligible voters choose to exercise their right not to vote.

Currently, more than 65 million Americans eligible to vote are not registered to vote. Of these, more than 24 million are women. Each year, 3-4 million high school students become eligible to register and vote, yet fewer than 50 percent of individuals ages 18-24 actually do.

This doesn’t necessarily mean that these individuals are not good citizens or do not care about their community and country. Lack of information or misinformation about the voting process – voter registration procedures and deadlines, for example – keeps many people from the polls.

Voter Registration Awareness Weekend - September 25 - 27, 2020

Prior to Girl Scout Promise to Vote Day on October 24, 2020, GSKWR is pledging to assist Kentuckians in registering to vote. Girl Scouts are asked to sponsor a booth to encourage eligible adults to vote - this can be done virtually (tips and guidelines enclosed) or in-person (contingent upon Governor/Council COVID guidelines). Girl Scouts should distribute voter resources such as voting instructions and voting locations. Girls are encouraged to distribute Promise to Vote stickers to adults. Stickers serve as a visual reminder of the promise made by Kentuckians to contribute back to their communities. Girl Scouts may create their own Promise to Vote stickers to distribute at their booth. Girl Scout staff will also host a Voter Registration Day Thursday, Oct. 1, 2020

Promise to Vote Day - October 24, 2020

In addition to Voter Registration Awareness Weekend, GSKWR is dedicating itself to reminding our communities about their responsibility to vote on Election Day Tuesday, Nov. 3, 2020. Girl Scout troops are asked to sponsor a booth - this can be done virtually (tips and guidelines enclosed) or in-person (contingent upon Governor/Council COVID guidelines). Girl Scouts will share voter resources such as FAQ’s regarding: voting locations, instructions on voting, etc. - and “Promise to Vote” stickers to adults as a visual reminder to vote. These resources will serve as a visual reminder of the promise made by Kentuckians to contribute back to their communities.

*For in-person booths - please do not contact Walmart. Stores such as: Kroger, Goodwill, Insurance Agencies, local grocery stores, local boutiques, coffee shops, banks, etc. are acceptable.
General Requirements

Community Service

In each succeeding national election, fewer and fewer eligible voters actually vote. Fewer than half the eligible women voted; forty-five million women did not vote. In addition, many young people are experiencing an alienation from any kind of political involvement. An informed and active electorate is essential to the success of a democracy, and one goal of the Girl Scout organization is to help girls develop into resourceful and active citizens.

Part of the program is to remind adults to Promise to Vote in this year’s election. Be sure to start the program early enough so the girls are well informed to participate in this part of the program.

Intent to Participate

Your intent to participate is due by September 11, 2020 by completing the Intent to Participate Form. If you do not complete the intent to participate form, we cannot guarantee that there will be extra patches available for purchase.

Age Level Patch Requirements

Each Age Level Must Complete the Following Number of Activities:

- Daisy and Brownie: 1 Discover, 1 Connect, 1 Take Action
- Junior and Cadette: 2 Discover, 2 Connect, 1 Take Action
- Senior and Ambassador: 3 Discover, 3 Connect, 1 Take Action

Patches are available at the GSKWR Service Center Retail Shops and by mail as needed. Once you or your troop has completed the steps to receive your patch(es) please complete the patch program questionnaire no later than December 1, 2020.
Discover

Investigate the election process. Research who is eligible to vote and how they register, or learn about the specific requirements for different offices. Running for president looks a lot different than running for mayor.

Discover differences and similarities between our government and others. Pick a country you’d like to know more about and learn what rights their citizens have. Who is eligible to vote? Who is their current leader? Consider inviting a returned Peace Corps volunteer or international aid worker to your troop meeting to share their experiences, and hear first-hand what living in a different political system is like.

Complete the Promise to Vote Scavenger Hunt (enclosed).

What makes a great leader? As a troop, discuss some of the characteristics of a good leader. What does leadership mean to you? Why? Be sure to include both local and global leaders in this discussion! Use the Qualities of a Good Leader activity sheet (enclosed) to make a list of the characteristics of a good leader.

Research the evolution of voter rights. Did you know that women weren’t always able to vote? Focus on a significant figure in the women’s suffrage movement, or draw a timeline that includes major events and changes in voter rights over history.

Connect

Interview three women to find out why they vote and what impact their vote has in the community.

Pretend you are running for office and make a commercial telling people why they should vote for you.

Collect three newspaper articles, or pictures that discuss the 2020 elections. Discuss them with your troop.

Complete the How to Judge a Candidate exercises (enclosed).

Help other Girl Scouts learn about voter registration. Complete a voter registration form together.

Pick an election issue that is important to you. Research your issue and summarize what you have learned for your troop. Hold a friendly debate on the issue.
Activities

Take Action
Distribute Voter Registration Flyer (enclosed) and ask each individual to sign the Pledge Card (enclosed) promising to vote in the 2020 Presidential Election. If you do not have printed copies of the Voter Registration Flyer, secure signatures on the Pledge Card and give instructions to the potential voter on how to access the information online.

- Conduct a Virtual or In-Person Voter Registration Awareness Booth
  - Voter Registration Awareness Drives should take place during September 25 – 27, 2020.
  - Distribute Voter Registration Cards and ask each individual to sign the Pledge Card (enclosed) promising to vote in the 2020 Presidential Election. If you do not have voter registration cards, secure the pledges on the card and give instructions to the potential voter on how to download a form.

- Conduct a Virtual or In-Person Promise to Vote Booth
  - Promise to Vote Booths should be held on October 24, 2020.
  - Distribute voter resources and Promise to Vote stickers. Ask each individual to sign the Pledge Card (enclosed) promising to vote in the 2020 Presidential Election.

Did you know?

Women were not allowed to vote until 1920.

On August 26, 1920, the 19th Amendment to the Constitution was finally ratified.

The 19th Amendment says that women, like men, deserve all the rights and responsibilities of citizenship!

The year 2020 marks the 100th anniversary of the passage of the 19th Amendment, guaranteeing and protecting women’s constitutional right to vote.
Facts about Voting

Fact: You can register to vote if you are:

- A United States Citizen
- 18 years old by election day
- A resident of the state in which you are voting

Myth: Someone must register me.

Fact: You can register yourself. Fill out a registration form. Sign the form yourself. Registration must take place 30 days before an election to be eligible to vote in that election.

Myth: Forms are hard to get.

Fact: Forms are available at a variety of locations such as: Post offices, libraries, fire stations, Department of Motor Vehicle offices, city, and county offices. You can contact the Voter Registration Office in your county to get a form sent to your home.

Myth: Once I fill out the registration form, I am registered.

Fact: You are registered when you receive a voter registration card form from the Registrar Recorder. It should arrive within 30 days.

Myth: If I do not vote in an election, I must re-register.

Fact: Registration at this time is permanent. You do not have to vote in each or any election to remain registered as long as you do not move out of the county you’re registered in. However, you must re-register when you move to a different county or wish to change political parties.

Myth: I can register for someone else.

Fact: You can only register for yourself.

Myth: If I am away from my home country on Election Day, I cannot vote.

Fact: You can vote absentee. Contact your Voters Registration Office for information on how to register for absentee voting.

Myth: Women have always been able to vote.

Fact: No. Thank you to abolitionist Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott who organized the Women’s Suffrage Movement and gained women the right to vote in 1920.

How to Judge a Candidate and See Through Distortion Techniques

Elections present voters with important choices. Whether it is a local race that will affect your community or a national race that could change the direction of the country, it is a time to consider the issues which you care about and decide which candidate you support.

Even if you are under 18 and not yet eligible to vote, election campaigns offer an excellent way to learn about the people and issues that affect your future. But how do voters go about comparing and then judging the candidates? All too often, slogans, name recognition, and personality are all that come through in the campaign materials. As television has come to dominate political campaigns, it has become difficult to move beyond a candidate’s image to the substance of the campaign. However, it is possible to move beyond style to substance.

The seven steps outlined here are designed to help you judge a candidate.

Step One: Decide what you are looking for in a candidate
Candidates can be judged in two ways: the positions they take on issues and the leadership qualities and experience they would bring to the office. Both are important. Your first step in picking a candidate is to decide the issues you care about and the qualities you want in a leader.

When you consider issues, think about community or national concerns that you want people in government to address. For example, you may be interested in the threat of nuclear war, government funding for student loans or teenage unemployment. Those are issues.

Step Two: Find out about the candidates
Use the Internet, magazines, and television to find out about the candidates.

Step Three: Gather materials about the candidates
Put together a “library” of information about the candidates. Collect any information you can find on the candidates. Call campaign headquarters and watch the press. Sources of information from which you may choose include:

- Campaign literature
- Direct mail letters (mass mailings sent to selected voters asking for support and funding)
- Press reports (newspaper clippings and television and radio reports)
- Radio and television ads
- Candidates’ speeches
- Candidate debates

Step Four: Evaluate candidates’ stands on issues
As you read the materials you collect, keep a journal. Do the materials give you an overall impression of the candidate? What specific conclusions can you draw about the candidates’ stands on issues? Record what you have learned about their stands on your priority issues from each source.

Step Five: Learn about the candidates’ leadership abilities
Deciding if a candidate will be a good leader is difficult. How can you know if someone will be honest, open or able to act under pressure if elected to office? Here are some ways to read between the lines as you evaluate the candidates’ leadership qualities.

- Look at the candidates’ background and their experience. How well prepared are they for the job?
- Observe the candidates’ campaigns. Do they accept speaking engagements before different groups that might not be sympathetic? Do they accept invitations to debate?
- Review the campaign materials. As you read the materials and watch the campaign develop, add to your journal information that provides insights into candidates’ personalities and leadership qualities. For example, do campaign materials emphasize issues or just image?
Step Six: Learn how other people view the candidate
Now that you have accumulated information from campaigns and other sources, you will want to learn what other people think about the candidates. Their opinions can help clarify your own view, but do not discount your own informed judgments. You may be the most careful observer of all!

- Seek the opinions of others in your community who keep track of political campaigns. Interview three people (not family members), such as a shopkeeper, neighbor, or politically active volunteer, to find out which candidate they support and why.
- Learn about endorsements. This is a way for interest groups and organizations to give a “stamp of approval” to a candidate. Endorsements provide clues to the issues that a candidate supports. For instance, a candidate endorsed by the Sierra Club (an environmental organization) will probably be in favor of legislation that protects the environment. A candidate endorsed by the National Rifle Association will probably be opposed to gun control laws. Get a list of endorsements from each of the candidates’ websites. Find out what these groups stand for and find out why they are endorsing this candidate.

Step Seven: Sorting it all out
Review the information you have collected and compare all the candidates. Ask yourself these final questions:

- Which candidates’ view on the issues do you agree with the most?
- Who ran a fair campaign?
- Which candidate demonstrated the most knowledge on the issues?
- Which candidate has the leadership qualities you are looking for?
- Is the choice clear? If so, pick a candidate.

See Through Distortion Techniques

Honest and Fair

All the candidates are trying to sell themselves to voters. Sometimes their language is so skillfully crafted that they distort the truth in ways that are difficult for even the most careful observer to detect. Here are examples of distortion techniques that you should watch for as you review candidates’ campaign materials.

- Name Calling/Appeals to Prejudice: These are attacks on an opponent based on characteristics that will not affect performance in office. Accusations such as, “My opponent is arrogant and full of hot air”, do not give any real information about the candidate. References to race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexuality, immigration history, or marital status can be subtly used to instill prejudice.
- Rumor Mongering: These include statements such as, “everyone says my opponent is a crook, but I have no personal knowledge of any wrongdoing”, which implies, but does not state that the opponent is guilty.
- Guilt by Association: These are statement such as, “we all know Candidate B is backed by big money interests”, that attack candidates because of their supporters rather than because of their stand on the issues.
- Catchwords: These are phrases such as “Law and order” or “un-American” that are designed to trigger a knee-jerk emotional reaction rather than to inform.
- Passing the Blame: These are instances in which a candidate denies responsibility for an action or blames an opponent for things over which he/she has no control.
- Promising the Sky: These are unrealistic promises that no elected official could fulfill.
- Evading Real Issues: These include instances in which candidates may avoid answering direct questions.
Did you know about women’s struggle to gain the right to vote?

If you opened up a dictionary and looked up the word Suffrage you would find that it means the right to vote. Our country is a democracy, identified by the phrase, “one person, one vote.” The framework of our government, The United States Constitution did not give the right to vote to everyone. In fact, two groups in this country, African Americans and women were denied this inalienable right for a long time. It was a long and arduous battle for the citizens of this country to be able to stand side by side and declare their right to vote in elections.

When the U.S. Constitution was drafted by a group of men in Philadelphia in 1787 they did not include women as they debated and discussed how to govern the country. Compelled to create a democracy, it was with limitations that did not extend past white men who qualified by various religious, property, and taxpaying criteria.

The Fifteenth Amendment provided the right to vote for black men in 1869 but it took until 1920 for women to gain that right when the Nineteenth Amendment was ratified.

The struggle really began in 1848 at a meeting held in New York called the Seneca Falls Convention. It was at this convention that people assembled, took the words of Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence, and stated their claim to their voting rights in a document called the Declaration of Sentiments (see below. Just like the Declaration of Independence, which was signed by 56 men, the Declaration of Sentiments was also signed by those who adopted it-68 women and 32 men. The principle author was Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

At a time when the role of women was very traditional these women became the foundation of the Suffragist Movement and fought long and hard but most did not live till 1920 to see their battle won. It caused a great deal of controversy. People respected their hard fought battle at first but were unwilling to let go of their traditional mindset. One article in a local newspaper event described it to be the “most shocking and unnatural paper recorded in the history of womanity.” It was the Declaration of Sentiments that formed the basis for the movement that eventually won women the right to vote 72 years later!

2020 marks the Centennial of the 19th Amendment giving women the right to vote in the United States. GSKWRC will celebrate the beginning of women’s access to the right to vote by offering a new Women’s Suffrage Centennial Patch Program that honors the legacy and spirit of the women’s suffrage movement.

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one portion of the family of man to assume among the people of the earth a position different from that which they have hitherto occupied, but one to which the laws of nature and of nature’s God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind required that they should declare the causes that impel them to such a course.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men and women are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. Whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of those who suffer from it to refuse allegiance to it, and to insist upon the institution of a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its power in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind is more disposed to suffer. While evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their duty to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of the women under this government, such is now the necessity which constrains them to demand the equal station to which they are entitled.

- The history of mankind is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations on the part of man toward women, having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over her. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.
- He has never permitted her to exercise her inalienable right to the elective franchise.
- He has compelled her to submit to laws, in the formation of which she had no voice.
- He has withheld from her rights which are given to the most ignorant and degraded men—both natives and foreigners.
- Having deprived her of this first right of citizen, the elective franchise, thereby leaving her without representation in the halls of legislation, he has oppressed her on all sides.
- He has made her, if married, in the eye of the law, civilly dead.
- He has taken from her all right in property, even to the wages she earns.
- He has made her, morally, an irresponsible being, as she can commit many crimes with impunity, provided they be done in the presence of her husband, he becoming, to all intents and purposes, her master—the law giving him power to deprive her of her liberty, and to administer chastisement.
- He has so framed the laws of divorce, as to what shall by the proper causes, and in case of separation, to whom the guardianship of the children shall be given, as to be wholly regardless of the happiness of women—the law, in all cases, going upon a false supposition of the supremacy of man, and giving all power into his hands.
After depriving her of all rights as a married woman, if single, and the owner of property, he has taxed her to support a government which recognizes her only when property can be made profitable to it.

- He has monopolized nearly all the profitable employments, and from those she is permitted to follow, she received but a scanty remuneration. He closes against her all the avenues to wealth and distinction which he considers most honorable to himself. As a teacher of theology, medicine, or law, she is not known.
- He has denied her the facilities for obtaining a thorough education, all colleges being closed against her.
- He allows her in church, as well as state, but a subordinate position, claiming apostolic authority for her exclusion from the ministry, and, with some exceptions, from any public participation in the affairs of the church.
- He has created a false public sentiment by giving to the world a different code of morals for men and women, by which moral delinquencies which exclude women from society are not only tolerated, but deemed of little account in man.
- He has usurped the prerogative of Jehovah himself, claiming it as his right to assign for her a sphere of action, when that belongs to her conscience and to her God.
- He has endeavored, in every way that he could, to destroy her confidence in her own powers, to lessen her self-respect, and to make her willing to lead a dependent and abject life. Now, in view of this entire disfranchisement of one-half the people of this country, their social and religious degradation—in view of the unjust laws above mentioned, and because women do feel themselves aggrieved, oppressed, and fraudulently deprived of their most sacred rights, we insist that they have immediate admission to all the rights and privileges which belong to them as citizens of the United States.

How to host a Virtual Voter Booth

Virtual Voter Booths hosted on social media give girls a way to stay safe, achieve their goals and help others in the community.

1. Discuss the purpose of a Virtual Voter Booth
   Brainstorm how your troop can virtually engage and empower others to understand the voting process in a patriotic—not political—manner, eagerly anticipate their right to vote, and encourage and enable women to exercise their right to vote.

2. Choose a virtual platform
   There are several different virtual tools you can use to host a Virtual Voter Booth. Here are several suggestions to help you.
   - Google Hangouts Meet
   - Microsoft Teams
   - Skype
   - Zoom
   - Facebook Event or Facebook Live
   You may have girls in your troop or group who are facing unique issues due to living in remote areas without Internet access, or with limited access to technology, or other economic circumstances. Make certain you are able to accommodate and include all girls, regardless of their situations, before moving forward with plans to go virtual. Ensure that your troop utilizes a video conferencing service that is accessible on all types of devices. For example, you may need to stay away from Face Time because not everyone has an Apple brand phone (Face Time is only available on IOS). Also, the video program should work the same on a cell phone as it does on a laptop or tablet considering that girls may or may not have the same devices.

3. Make it personal and fun!
   Emphasize that the Virtual Voter Booth will be girl-led by having girls create a simple action plan to boost engagement!
   - Create a Troop Playlist to play while attendees enter or exit the Virtual Voter Booth or use Virtual Voter Booth photo props – the options are endless.

4. Consider the logistics
   - Plan your agenda ahead of time.
   - Prepare some fun and respectful protocols.
   - Follow the safety steps under the GSUSA Safety Activity Checkpoints for Virtual Meetings.
   - Make sure girls know how to be safe on the Internet by completing the Girl Scout Internet Safety Pledge.
   - Watch the GSKWR Online Safety Refresher

   If you are unsure about a safety or privacy feature on a virtual platform, always contact someone on staff at council for assistance.

5. Invite friends and family
   Send Virtual Voter Booth invitations through social media, email and text. Don’t forget to mention the fact Girl Scouts are still changing the world even when circumstances are keeping them from meeting up in person.

6. Promote on social media and in your community
   Be sure to use the hashtags below and tag @KYGirl Scouts on your social media posts.
